

Strenght

Life isn't always
The way you expect
Things go different than you'd like
Life can amaze you
Take you in its grip
So float along the stream

The more I put effort
In keeping control
The less control I have
How much I would like
To be able to let go
It's just not in me

Give me the strength
Give me life
Give me the strength
Give me life
For now

The things that you wanted
The way you had planned
Don't always come true
That what you feared
That what you hated
It will cross your path

How can you keep floating?
How can you stand?
How can you go on?
You take what comes to you
Whether you want or not
You handle it anyway

Give me the strength
Give me life
Give me the strength
Give me life
For now...

Have I the courage to do what I want
Have I the guts just to be
What is inside of me, there is my strength
Open the door to the source

No one has been given life
To throw it away
Who knows what you mean to someone else
Don't think you have nothing to offer
Look in the mirror
Let the world see: you are unique!
Find the strength, your strength, that movement
Don't deny someone the chance
To get the thing that only you can give

Give them the strength
Give them life
Give them the strength
Give them life
For now..
