

See

See, sight, open wide
Eyes unspoiled
View untold
Shapes envisioned
Panoramas unfold

I saw the world from every side
Zooming in on places I know
Over viewing their surroundings
Hidden places they didn't show

How my eyes only see what they want
And notice what they like
How I see beauty where you do not
Together we see twice as much

Taste

Sour, taste, neutral based
Bitter sweet
Yet we feed
So delicious
Saturation within

I tasted life from dawn till dusk
Letting flavours roll on my tongue
Memories of dinners past
Remembering all the people I knew

How my lips don't taste poison within
When covered up in sweet
How your lips taste like life in the flesh
Together combining them all

Smell

Fresh, ease, smell the breeze
Flower, spring
Air they bring
Sent enfuming
Breathing it all in

I smell the ocean miles away
New grass covers the stench of the streets
Perfume clouds cross on my path
Changing air with every step

How my nose smells adventure afar
And problems right ahead
How your sent tells me where I belong
Together we reach for the sky

Hear

Hear, sound, echoes surround
Clicking, pound
Zooming loud
All frequencies
Carrying on the wind

I listened to the sound of today
Steps on pavement, cars on the road
Whispering or screaming out
Tracing every move that is made

How my ears only hear what is new
And forget what's always there
How you tell me to hear what they say
Together we hear the whole story

Touch

Feel, touch, sense much
Skin to skin
Warm yet thin
Cool sensations
Shivering from within

I stretched my hands out to the world
Feeling every surface around
Sliding on from smooth to rough
Trembling from the life that's within

How my feet tell me where to stand
And know where not to go
How your hold can guide me through fear
Together discover it all
