

Your heart will know mine

What can I say
That hasn't already been said?
What can I do
That hasn't already been done?
To be original
Won't tell you what I mean to say
To be outrageous
Won't show you what I mean

Let my eyes shine their light
Let my lips sweeten yours
Let my arms reach out
And I hope you'll see through
Let my thoughts send out
And my heart beat out loud
Let my breath hold
Then I know you'll know
What I already told you so

I could climb the highest mountain
I could jump out of a plane
To show I've conquered fright of heights
What would it mean?
I could walk across the water
I could orb straight to the moon
To show I can do miracles
What would it mean?

If my eyes didn't shine
If my arms didn't reach
If my lips didn't taste the sweetness of yours
Without thoughts of you
Without breathless words
No hearts beating faster
How would you know
What I already told you so

A thousand words to say
What's already been said
Too many times before
I trust you to feel
All the ways I did sign you
So your heart will know mine

Then my eyes will shine
And my lips will sweeten yours
And my arms will reach out
And I know you'll see through
Then my thoughts will send out
And my heart will beat out loud
And my breath will hold
Then I know you'll know
What I already told you so
